Reservations

A SPEED UTV reservation is access to the industry-leading SPEED UTV that is slated for delivery beginning Q4 2020 based on your master number (consider that your reservation)

We'll begin processing orders (having the product configurator up and running with available options) starting July 15th. The first car to be processed will be the 4 Seat El Jefe.

Reservation holders will be notified to customize their side by side which will then generate a build sheet. Your master order number will be manually assigned to your order.

Your reservation will also provide you access to our owner's group where we will have exclusive content for you to see some more behind the scenes process. As we grow, the owner's group will feature videos, stories, adventures, and more.

This membership is included in with your initial reservation and is contingent upon you taking ownership of your car.

Through the owner's group, we will disseminate the correct documents, finance options, etc including scheduling deliveries and an invitation to our exclusive delivery parties.

Financing Will be available through:

timothykelley67 Will you have front bumper options available? The prototype had a nice clean bumper.

35m Reply

There will be bumpers available for different use cases. To the right is an XX bumper that we currently make. We will do something similar that fits the body lines of the new car.

Yes, the speed key is Race Legal.
It does not change any physical components of the vehicle only ecu

Which do you unit do you think will be best for short course and mid west riding? Baja Bandit LE or RG Edition? I really like the 77 inch for stability but if the 72 inch handles as good as I assume, it will be light years a head of the Polaris and Can Am and will be better in the tight trails.

Wider is better, as long as you can fit it.
The 72" car still does handle exceptionally well.

This is true. Our flagship dealer will be located in Havasu.

Wonder if it would be an option to have mounting tabs welded onto the cage for a light bar, I'm wanting to run the KC bar Ive attached. I'd rather not have to use a janky "universal" tube clamp that may get in the way of running a windshield or window nets.

Todd Romano whatcha think?
