QUESTIONS

Q: How will Canadians get their cars? Where will the best place be to pick them up?

Jon Dunbar

Karla Romano if I'm not a lucky caller can we add a small portion to the show to how Canadians will get there cars? Where would pick up be and possibly a small part on service since we won't have a dealer ? Thanks #2166

There is always the option to pick up cars at one of the delivery parties we are planning to put on.

The other option to pick up cars from the Lake Havasu dealership or another dealer south of the border.

If direct delivery is desired, additional shipping charges may be applied.

Or maybe you can convince Daniel to bring it up to Ft Mac for you.

QUESTIONS

Will 72" bandits be produced at the end of first Bandit run, (meaning a week or two delay), or will they go back to Diablo and EL Jefe production before starting another round of Bandits with 72" widths?

72" Bandits will follow the 77" Bandits as they require new control arms, trailing arms, axles and tie rods. Apart from that they are the same as the 77" version. Bandit batches are small enough that they will ship very close to one another time wise.
